Berkeley Jaycees Host State President Today

Bob Glines of Lakewood, president of California Jaycees with a membership of 12,000, will be guest of Berkeley Jaycees today.

Berkeley President Al Raffetto said there will be a champagne press party at 5 p.m. this afternoon at the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce office. This will be followed by a dinner at the Brazilian Room in Tilden Park. All Jaycees in Alameda County have been invited to the dinner, Raffetto said.

Many Take Advantage Of Saturday Hours for Medicare

"Since persons must file for Medicare before the month they reach 65, many residents of Berkeley-Albany and Contra Costa County have taken advantage of our new Saturday hours," announced Gerald O. Dewhirst, District Manager of the Berkeley Social Security office.

He emphasized that everyone wanting to enroll in the medical insurance program should do so in one of the three months prior to their 65th birthday. "Filing before age 65 will assure valuable medicare coverage in the month you are 65," assured Dewhirst. He added that anyone reaching age 65 in December, 1966 must be enrolled in September, October or November to be covered as of December.

Since persons attain their birthday the day before their actual birthdate, persons born on the first day of the month should take this into consideration in deciding when to enroll for medicare, cautioned Dewhirst.

"Many hundreds of persons have gratefully responded to our Saturday hours and we will continue this service again as of Saturday, Nov. 19," Dewhirst concluded.

The Berkeley Social Security office, located at 1950 University Avenue, is now open 8 a.m.-12 p.m. on Saturdays in addition to 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. For further information call 841-5121, Extension 431.

WILLIAM T. LEONARD HONORED BY MAGAZINE

William T. Leonard

"William T. Leonard of El Cerrito, Albany High school teacher in 1953-55, Executive Vice President of the Associated Home Builders of the Greater Eastbay, has been selected as one of the top 12 housing performers in the United States by House & Home magazine," announced Richard O'Neill, editor of House & Home, a leading housing industry journal.

Leonard was cited for his significant contribution made to housing during the past year in working with pension funds to obtain long-term financing for home buyers. Leonard is the first person to be selected twice for this coveted honor and received similar recognition in 1963 for his work in condominium legislation.

He has served on the Governor's mortgage capital formation committee and, in cooperation with governmental, mortgage, and union leaders, was credited with developing over $500 million worth of increased home mortgages.

One of the significant policy changes was the California State Teachers' Retirement System deciding to invest in home mortgages. Leonard also developed a complete 55-page manual showing the necessary forms and procedures to facilitate the purchase of home mortgages by pension funds.

"We are extremely proud to have had Bill Leonard as our Executive Officer for the past 5½ years," said Joe Duffel, president of the Associated Home

Builders. "Not only the members of our association, but the entire industry and the home buyers have benefitted by his forward-looking leadership."

The award presentation will be made at the Chicago Convention when 30,000 members of the National Association of Home Builders meet Dec. 6.

Jehovah's Witnesses Meeting Dec. 9-11

Solano County Fairgrounds will be the center of activity for Jehovah's Witnesses during their semi-annual circuit assembly Dec. 9-11, according to Mr. Howard Hooks, presiding minister of Berkeley congregation. He outlined the theme for the three day gathering, namely: "Become Spiritual Men With Everlasting Life In View."

The Friday evening program starting at 6:45 will illustrate by means of a model ministry school how Jehovah's Witnesses are prepared for the ministry world wide. Youth and the family circle will hold a prominent part on the program, high lighted with the showing of the nationally televised film "Heritage." Also scheduled to maintain the unity of the family circle will be several talks and demonstrations.

More than 2,500 Jehovah's Witnesses from Contra Costa and Solano counties will attend the assembly.

Climax of the assembly will be Sunday at 3 p.m. when A. B. Stutler, district supervisor from New York, will speak on the subject, "Satisfying Mankind's Greatest Need."

Seaman Harry A. Beggio, USN, son of Mrs. Mary C. Beggio of 1138 Brighton Ave., Albany, serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier Ranger, has qualified to wear the Navy Unit Commendation ribbon.

His ship has also earned the Arleigh Burke Fleet Trophy. The award is presented each year to one ship in the Atlantic Fleet and one ship in the Pacific Fleet for the greatest improvement in battle efficiency.

The Ranger is now moored at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard near Seattle, Washington, where it will undergo an extensive overhaul before returning to service overseas.

MEMBER, THE ORDER OF THE GOLDEN RULE

Councilman Howell said he is convinced that raising assessments will keep residential property taxes down in Albany. We'll know a year from now. We should ask the legislature to amend the bill to give property owners in Albany two to three years to come up to provisions of the bill.

Clark agreed, adding that if revenue increases, Albany City Council might be able to reduce the tax rate but other taxing agencies may not. "If this is the case, we should ask the legislature for relief."

Councilman George Hein said, "I didn't think I'd ever see the day I'd ever advocate a rush in assessment of Albany, but it may equalize taxes if it's done. We have to gamble that this will work out."

Clark said the goal is equitable taxation in the city and throughout the county.

Howell, saying the Council would lower taxes if assessed value rises, predicted other agencies such as Rapid Transit would use the assessed valuation. "If there is no decrease in taxes, the people of Albany are going to be hurt."

Street Lighting
Council adopted a resolution of intention modifying the report of San Pablo Avenue street lighting previously approved calling for steel poles at $3.88 per front foot. The modification calls for aluminum poles at $4.83 per front foot.

Turner said the cost to the city will be $8,050.54, less a $5,836.77 charge to the University of California for the frontage at University Village on San Pablo Ave.

Council set 8 p.m. Monday, Dec. 12, as the time for the public hearing on the modified resolution.

Parking
Following the recommendation of the Traffic and Safety commission to leave the one-hour parking restriction on the east side of Adams north of Solano because to remove it would be setting a precedent, Council voted 4-0, expressing regret to Jim Wolfe who had requested the elimination of restricted parking, to leave it as it is.

Sewer Connection
Shaking the moths out of a three-year-old ordinance calling for sewer service connection charges in Albany, Councilman Joe Carlevaro asked that Ordinance 64-02 be read under "unfinished business."

A reporter clocked reading of the lengthy ordinance at 13 minutes.

Other Councilmen
At the suggestion of Howell, Clark was named voting delegate to ABAG as mayor of the city. Hein suggested Howell be named alternate, reversing the previous positions. It passed 4-0.

The mayor was authorized to proclaim Nov. 22, anniversary of the assassination of President Kennedy, as "God Help Our President" day.

It was noted that the ABAG proposal for regional government will be on the agenda next Monday night. A work session had been held on this proposal prior to the Nov. 14th meeting.

A thank-you from the men planning to build the rest home-medical offices on San Pablo was read and filed.

Following a recommendation of Traffic and Safety commission, the "yield" sign at the intersection of Marin with Buchanan will be replaced by a "stop" sign.

Council adopted a resolution concurring with the City of Hayward affirming home rule on building codes.

Clark said a work session was held last week with the Chamber of Commerce on beautification of Solano and throughout the city. Council requested Turner to prepare a report on priority areas and possibility of help through Urban Renewal Funds. Turner promised a report at the next

Richmond Airport
Carlevaro then asked if anything had been done about the proposed Richmond airport. Turner said word of opposition by Albany City Council and Planning and Zoning commission had been forwarded to the Bay Conservation and Development commission, which meets this week. Carlevaro said Albany Bay committee has a communication out listing hazards of such a proposal and other Councilmen agreed this, too, should go to BCDC and Council should support ABC "this time when they feel as we do."

Linear Park
Carlevaro also asked what has been done on El Cerrito's proposal to create a linear park along the creek dividing Albany and that city, which he understood had been forwarded to Association of Bay Area Governments. Turner said a joint meeting of the Park and Recreation commission and Planning and Zoning commission was to have been held last night (Tuesday) with a representative of El Cerrito, Ken Smith.

Tree Planting
Mayor Clark said the Park and Recreation commission will help select trees to replace those which had to be removed by the City. He said he understood an organization was interested in participating in the program.

Saler, a member of the Albany Lions club, chided Clark for not mentioning the Lions club by name, which Turner finally did, stating they plan an active part in replacing trees and possibly will be joined by other clubs.

tus Thieves in Albany," which should have been "Cactus Thieves" and another headline stating "Albany School Vote Slapped," which not only was tasteless in view of the body of the story, but must have caused Ken Forry to have fits. This is hardly the type of headline Albany voters deserve after voting in a 75-cent tax increase.

want to wrap your children in cotton and hide them in the closet, but does offer advice on how to help them live safely in this world. Reactions have been varied. El Cerrito police officers, who attended the special showing, thought the ending was too brutal, but heartily approved the rest of the 25-minute color film. May Ellis Olson (525-0246) is making arrangements for it to be shown to adult groups in the area.

WELL, CHRISTMAS is just around the corner. At the Times, we always get the message when our man on the street starts selling Christmas Coloring Contest panels. The contest will be published Nov. 30.

ALBANY IS DISCOVERING it can't remain an island. Indications appear at every hand. The first "regional government" to make itself felt locally was Bay Area Rapid Transit. Then we had a go-round (not yet completed) with Bay Area Conservation and Development commission on our Bay Fill. Now there appear two choices for actual regional government—one proposed by Association of Bay Area Governments and the other created by the State Legislature. The most palatable, without doubt, is the ABAG proposal because it is closer to home rule. If you're interested in this inevitable step, attend the next City Council meeting. ABAG's proposal, still under consideration until a special meeting Dec. 16, is on the agenda.

REV. CARL WILLIAMSON of Albany Methodist church reports they have had four calls regarding their item last week asking for an organist-choir director. A selection will be made after each has been interviewed, he said.

RAINS ON MONDAY apparently cut down attendance at the Chamber of Commerce open house to show off newly-remodeled quarters at 1108 Solano. President Joe Dagna has invited Albany folks to drop in any time this week to view the offices and sign the guest book.

LETTER

Editor, the Times:

The Berkeley Board of Realtors' prior gesture of courtesy to our minority population has now been rescinded. Hereafter the Multiple Listing Service will again accept, and thereby invite, racial and religious discrimination in the listing of properties it accepts for sale.

The staff of Tepping Realty Company unanimously declares to the real estate industry and to the general public our shock and indignation at the Board's decision. We emphatically disassociate ourselves from this policy and from the regressive philosophy that produced it.

Our long-standing office policy shall remain unchanged. We shall continue to accept no listings restrictive of our moral obligation to present all properties to any objectively qualified person.

It is our conviction that both the law and our ethical convictions demand such a policy. We urge our fellow realtors to take a similar stand.

Mercantile Inspection

Merchants of Albany are advised by the Fire Department that if they see a fire truck parked out in front of their shops and firemen poking around in out of the way places not to fear. It probably is a regular company of firemen on their annual mercantile inspection.

This program is for the purpose of helping the local businessman operate a more safe occupancy in regards to fire and panic. It also serves a second purpose and that is as a training aid for the fire fighters. It gives them an opportunity to preplan in the event a fire does occur in any one occupancy they will be able to fight the fire more intelligently, with a resultant less loss of property and contents.

The annual mercantile inspection is the responsibility of the Fire Prevention Bureau under the direction of Fire Chief Gerald Browne. Fire personnel making the inspections use walkie talkies so therefore are in constant contact with department headquarters and are ready to respond to a fire at any time.

Records of the inspection are kept in the department files which show a perimeter drawing of the occupancy and all pertinent information of the building. This information is used for fire company drilling purposes. It is also accessible to the dispatcher on duty so that he may radio information to the fire company at a fire scene giving them information that may help in making a quick stop of the fire.

Allocates Funds for Street Lights

The Board of Regents of the University of California has apportioned up to $7,500 to pay for street lighting along University Avenue in the vicinity of the University Village. There was some apprehension that a move would set a precedent for providing financial assistance to cities where students benefit from municipal services, but President Clark Kerr assured them that no precedent would be established if funds are for the safety and convenience of the students.

Strong support came from Chancellor Roger W. Heyns, who said the students themselves, who represent 20 per cent of Albany's population, had petitioned the university for an improved lighting system. If the University had not participated in the special assessment district for improved street lighting on San Pablo, the 1,200 front feet of University Village could have been eliminated. Other possibilities were increasing assessments of property owners to compensate for the stretch in front of the Village or abandoning the project.

Christmas Seal Luncheon At Blue Dolphin Friday

The 60th Annual Christmas Seal kick-off luncheon will be held Friday, Nov. 18, at 12:30 at the Blue Dolphin Inn on the San Leandro Marina with KCBS Radio personality Fred Wilcox, a recently recovered TB victim, as master of ceremonies. The announcement of this annual affair was made by Mrs. Richard L. Gleason, Albany chairman for the TB and Health Association of Alameda County. The entertainment part of the program will be provided by the TB-A-Go-Go Swingers—the Three Eradicators, Peter X-ray, Paul Skin-Test and Mary Breathing-Test and their two guitar-playing Big Daddies, telling the saga of the Association's new mobile service to begin Jan. 2. A simulated telephone information program will be conducted by Program Host Wilcox. Guests will have a chance to "phone in" from their tables and ask questions regarding this new "Operation Trackdown Service." The traditional luncheon marks the mailing of Christmas Seal packets to residents of Albany. This year contributions will not only help fight TB, Emphysema and other respiratory diseases but will help keep the new mobile service rolling throughout the county.

PETRIS STATEMENT ON GRAND JURY REPORT

State Senator-elect Nicholas Petris has issued a statement hailing the grand jury assessment report as proof he was right in the property tax debates prior to his recent election. Although pleased and heartened by the Wednesday report from the county Grand Jury special committee on assessment practices, Petris said, "I find it an interesting coincidence that this report was released on the day after the election."

Petris has been under attack as co-author of Assembly Bill 80, which many claimed would create new tax burdens on the homeowner. Petris said that vacant land held for speculation is often grossly underassessed and that if proper assessments were imposed the increased tax revenue would lower tax rates and consequently would mean no over-all tax increases for homeowners.

On the Grand Jury report, Petris said, "It confirms what I have said throughout the recent election campaign—that the reform provisions of AB 80 will not increase homeowners' taxes if the assessor will simply reassess the business and undeveloped property presently on the rolls. There is a gold mine of tax revenue in these underassessed rolls because of the favoritism and bad practices of the former assessor."

"This report indicates that many homeowners are paying more taxes than they should to make up for the taxes lost through these assessment deficiencies,"

Concerning AB 80, Petris said, "Assembly Bill 80 was designed to correct the inequities of assessment practices in assessors' offices throughout the state. The new law reduces the enormous and arbitrary powers formerly had by assessors. It applies a universal measure for assessments so that everyone is assessed fairly."

"Assembly Bill 80 is certainly not the last word on the subject. Experience will indicate what changes will be necessary to fulfill its purpose."

(Assemblyman Petris defeated Republican Colin Kelley in last Tuesday's general election for a new State Senate seat in 11th District.)

PETRIS CONTENTIONS UPHELD BY GRAND JURY

Some property in Alameda County is assessed as low as one per cent, according to a Grand Jury report released last week.

These findings support the contention of newly-elected Senator Nicholas Petris, co-author of Assembly Bill 80.

Petris came under fire during the recent pre-election campaign because he had insisted that the new law would not raise homeowners' taxes if sufficient under-assessed property were discovered and properly assessed. It was generally believed the law would raise homeowner taxes.

One section of the controversial AB80, the so-called assessor reform bill, provided that all property shall be assessed at 25 per cent of its market value by 1970. Alameda County supervisors have voted that property in this county be assessed at the 25 per cent ratio for 1967. Residential property in the county is now assessed at 21.6 per cent and commercial property is assessed at 28 per cent.

Alameda County Mayors have asked that more appraisers be added to the staff of the assessor's office to reappraise commercial property as quickly as possible. If inequities caused by land referred to by the Grand Jury are corrected plus a reappraisal program, it is believed AB 80 may not cause homeowner taxes to rise.

In its report the Grand Jury recommended additional appraisers to correct irregularities in the assessment roll; reappraisal of all real property every three years; immediate start of re-evaluation of the taxable possessor interests in all categories of assessed valuation and an immediate comprehensive survey of rural land and reappraisal where applicable.
